The BfV was most appreciative of the photographs transmitted with reference. At the time we passed the photographs the BfV was in the process of turning the case over to UPWING because it offered a possibility for an approach to an officer of a hostile intelligence service. The photographs were turned over to UPWING for showing to the agent and the BfV claims not to have heard from UPWING on the matter. We have also reminded the BfV of our request that the photographs be returned. We have needed the BfV on this periodically and will continue to do so until we achieve results.
